Nice Touch, Carver.
THE PROUD TRADITION CONTINUES.

Each year the proud line-up of Carver cruisers and motor yachts gets more exciting. For 1986, the momentum continues. Three exciting new models join the Carver fleet, which now totals 13 models from 26’ to 42’, making it one of the most complete in the industry. Depending upon your lifestyle, there’s a Carver that’s just right for you, with the extra nice touches that are only available from Carver.
CARVER CRAFTSMANSHIP. A WAY OF LIFE.

There's a rare quality that drives the people responsible for Carver's success. It's called pride.

Over 700 Carver employees bring it to work every day. To build the finest cruisers and motor yachts in the world. Their ranks include marine designers and engineers with exceptional track records, highly skilled and meticulous craftsmen and result-oriented management.

For more than 30 years, Carver yachts have been manufactured in the same midwest location, in a rural community that still supports its ancestry's work ethic for quality craftsmanship. This tradition for achieving perfection is evident throughout every Carver. From the precision fit hatches and doors, to the specially crafted cabinetry and carefully hand-sown fabrics, and smooth exterior fiberglass finish, the proud heritage of Carver Craftsmanship shows.

Carver designers are masters at using space efficiently, and at getting every inch of comfort and luxury out of Carver cabins. They begin with building a full-scale mock-up of the exterior plan before it's released for production, so that every detail can be painstakingly studied and people tested. Sure, it's time consuming, but the results are worth it.

Carver manufactured, inside and out.

One way Carver maintains such tight control over its quality is by manufacturing and assembling most components in its own shops. The richly looking, hand crafted cabinetry you'll find aboard a Carver is carefully built in Carver's own Wood Shop. Experienced woodsmen inspect the raw teak and carefully cut every piece to a detailed pattern to ensure a precise fit. Joiners are all seasoned craftsmen whose hands have a feel for how wood moves. And then there's the finishing touch. All cabinets, bulkheads and trim are given a hand rubbed finish, which provides a look of fine furniture. Just one of Carver's nice touches.

Highest value and reliability.

At a time when many boatbuilders have cut back on the "extravagant" in their yachts to remain price competitive, Carver has managed to control its costs while maintaining the integrity and high standards of its product. Which means Carver owners get more value for their money. Something they especially appreciate at trade-in time.

Much of this is due to our high standards of manufacturing. Our basic philosophy is, we can't afford to cut corners if our goal is to build quality yachts. A good example of this thinking is the way we build our hulls. Every Carver hull is carefully formed from multiple layers of hand-laid fiberglass. This method assures the proper ratio of resin saturation and thickness of material. That translates into strength and reliability for you when confronted with high seas. Furthermore, each hull is carefully inspected and tested and must meet our high-quality standards.

The luxurious, color-coordinated upholstery and draperies are precision hand-sewn in Carver's own Upholstery Shop. Even the stainless-steel rails are carefully welded and polished in our Metal Fabricating Shop. After the sale, care and back-up. Every new Carver design must pass a series of rigorous sea trials at our testing facilities, where the waters of the Great Lakes provide conditions that are as rugged and varied as any on earth. In addition, our designs are also tested in harsh, blue water conditions off the coast of Florida.

As a Carver owner, you're assured of receiving after-the-sale support. Every Carver comes with an extensive one-year warranty. In addition, Carver dealers are located throughout the United States, Canada and Europe. They feature trained specialists who are always willing to assist you.

Carver Craftsmanship is a way of life in Palm Beach. We're especially proud to show it to you in person. Give us a call to arrange for a personal tour of our facilities. We think you'll be impressed.

Human Engineered for comfort and luxury.

Nothing will affect your boating pleasure and comfort more than the engineering and design of your yacht. That's why Carver goes to great lengths to ensure that its designs accommodate the needs of people. We call it "Human Engineering."
